DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed April 30, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

a. Applicants argue that one of ordinary skill in the art would not have found it obvious to modify Holmes et al. as suggested by prior Office Action and substitute continuous splittable multicomponent fibers for the fibers of Holmes et al., regardless of the teachings of Groitzsch et al. Further, Applicants argue that the composite fabric of the present invention contains a fibrous material hydraulically entangled with a creped nonwoven web.

It is noted that that Holmes et al. discloses that the fabrics showing best recovery after elongation include nonapertured, hydroentangled poly(ethylene terephthalate) staple fiber fabrics. (Col. 3, lines 33-35) It is the Examiner's interpretation that Holmes et al. teachings are not limited to staple fibers. With regards to substituting continuous splittable multicomponent fibers for the fibers of Holmes et al., it is noted that Groitzsch teaches that a disadvantage of the nonwoven fabrics composed of short fibers is that when using a comparable amount of binder as in carded nonwoven fabrics, the strength obtained is clearly lower. [0005] Therefore, the rejection of claims 20-29 and 31-34 is maintained for the reasons stated in prior office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 20-29 and 31-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Holmes et al. (US 6,375,889) in view of Groitzsch et al. (US 2002/0034907) as stated in previous office action.

4. Claims 35-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Holmes et al. and Groitzsch et al. as applied to claims 1-29 and 31-34 above, and further in view of a YOSHIMURA et al. (US 6,080,466).

HOLMES et al. and GROITZSCH et al. fail to teach the fibrous material content claimed herein and are silent to bonding the nonwoven web prior to entanglement. YOSHIMURA et al. is directed to composite sheets for use as industrial wipes or cleaning cloths. (Col. 1, lines 6-7) In Example 1, the reference teaches using a paper sheet with a basis weight of 90 g/m² entangled to a long fiber nonwoven fabric of a basis weight of 15 g/m². The reference also teaches that the long fiber nonwoven fabric consists of integrated polypropylene long fibers having many point-fused regions. The Examiner's interpretation is that the point-fused regions of the web of YOSHIMURA et al. equate to the bonding claimed in the present invention and based on the basis weights of the materials taught by the reference, the fabric sheet of YOSHIMURA et al. will have a 85% of fibrous material (pulp). It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have YOSHIMURA et al.'s fibrous content in the fabric, motivated by the desire of producing a composite sheet with excellent draping qualities, a nearly fabric-like touch and a good usability at low cost as disclosed by YOSHIMURA et al. (Column 2, lines 6-11)

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1771

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
